

WEDDING SEASON KICKS OFF WITH THE COMMONS' BRIDAL EXPO
The Commons at Franklin to Host Divine Dimensions Bridal Show on January 17, 2010

The Commons at Franklin will host its first bridal show on January 17th, 2010 presented by Divine Dimensions-Wedding Professionals. The show will feature premier vendors from the area specializing in every aspect of wedding requirements (photographers, DJs, florists, etc.).

“Wedding season is a very exciting time for The Commons,” says Michael Farsace, General Manager of The Commons at Franklin. “We have a beautiful venue to hold wedding receptions, rehearsal dinners, and post-wedding brunches. Now we are expanding our horizons by offering this community the chance to experience and network with wedding professionals in the area. We are excited and privileged to host the show.”

Brides will have the opportunity to register as V.I.B.s (Very Important Brides). The cost to be a V.I.B. is $20.00 and includes early admission to the show, an elegant brunch buffet, a private fashion show from Nicole’s Bridal, and a special goodie bag. Brides can register at www.venangowedding.com or contact Michael or Matt at The Commons at Franklin at (814) 437-7771 to make V.I.B. reservations.

For those brides who do not wish to be V.I.B.s, general admission to the public is $3.00 and will take place from 1:00 – 3:00 p.m. Also, every registered bride has the chance to win one of several prizes valued at $25.00 or more from each vendor. The Commons at Franklin is offering a free, private post-wedding brunch at McGinnis’ Irish Pub and Grill for up to 20 people!

The Commons at Franklin is located at 1340 Liberty Street in Franklin, PA. For more information or to book a wedding, party, or event, please call (814) 437-7771, or visit the Web site at www.thecommonsatfranklin.com.
